March 2004

PROGRAM

DATE: March 16, 2004

THEME: RESEARCH

PROGRAM: ABSORPTION CHILLERS

SPEAKERS: Dave Eaton, P.Eng., Service Operation Manager, Trane Ottawa
Joel Primeau, P.Eng., Account Manager, Trane Ottawa

TOPIC: With the uncertainty of the electricity generation sector, more and more owners and designers consider the viability of absorption chillers for their construction or renovation projects. The absorption chiller uses gas burners or excess heat in the form of steam or high-temperature hot water to generate chilled water. The presentation will describe exactly how absorption chillers work and it will also discuss design considerations, applications, and cite case studies. If you are a designer, a contractor or an owner, this presentation is intended for you.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

March plans to be a very busy ASHRAE month for the OVC. We are in full stride with the annual Research Promotion and TEGA award campaigns and our Curling Bonspiel will take place on March 19. Plan to get involved.

The theme for our March meeting is ASHRAE Research. ASHRAE Research, or Resource Promotion as it is now called, raises annual and endowed funds to help support ASHRAE's mission, programs, and services. Research seeks contributions from ASHRAE members and the HVAC&R industry for the Society's research and educational programs as well as for general support of its many membership benefits and programs. I would like to take this opportunity to thank the members of the OVC who support ASHRAE Research and look forward to the continued support of our membership in this very important campaign.

We have an exciting program planned for the March meeting. I hope to see you there.
Jason MacMurdo, P.Eng.
Ottawa Valley Chapter President 2003-2004
