Technical: (3:30 – 4:30)

Prior to the evening meeting, there was a tour of the recently completed Canadian War Museum. Along with the amazing collection pieces, memorabilia and displays, the students, members and companions were shown the significance and nuances of the building itself. For example, all the walls are built at an 11 degree angle to commemorate the 11th hour, of the 11th day, of the 11th month for Remembrance Day. Richard Albert summarized the tour for those who could not attend.

Evening Program (8:20 - 9:25)

Program: CIDA's Engagement in Afghanistan
Speaker: Jamie Graves, Assistant Director CIDA Afghanistan

Rod Potter introduced the evening speaker.

Mr. Graves discussed the government of Canada's overall military and diplomatic strategy for Afghanistan. An overview of the political history over the past 50 years was presented. Under recent Taliban rule, life for the Afghan people was very socially restrictive and in particular with respect to the treatment of women.

With the removal of the Taliban regime, the Bonn Process allowed for a full election of a parliament of which Canada played a leading role. Outstanding challenges for the future include security, lack of institutional and human capacity (e.g. educational facilities, professionals, etc...) and poverty (Afghanistan is the fifth poorest nation in the world).

In Afghanistan, people are killed every day by abandoned mines and 90% of the world's poppy flowers (used to produce heroin) are grown there. To stabilize Afghanistan, the country needs to be demilitarized and the drug trade needs to be controlled. This is currently being addressed by a NATO initiative called the International Security Assistance Force (ISAF). The ISAF is currently being led by Canada and is in command of over 17,000 multinational troops. On the diplomatic front, Canada Provincial Reconstruction Team (PRT) is working with the locals on many levels (e.g. community outreach programs). The PRT is unique to Canada and is becoming a model for other nations.

- Joel Primeau thanked our guest speaker for his presentation and presented him with a gift.
- Glenn thanked all for attending and announced that the golf tournament would be held on September 14th this year.
- With no other business at hand, Glenn adjourned the meeting at 9:30pm.
